DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 1, 10-13, and 16-19 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Please see the "Applicant's Arguments/Remarks Made in an Amendment" filed August 1, 2008, the allowable subject matter section of the previous office action dated June 3, 2008, and below.

Claim 1 recites a battery state-of-charge estimator comprising: a voltage detector, an internal resistance estimator unit, an estimated charging/discharging current calculator unit, an SOC estimator unit, an open voltage calculator unit, and a current detection abnormality detector unit which compares the measured charging/discharging current value which is detected by a current detector and the estimated charging/discharging current value which is determined by one of the estimated charging/discharging current calculator unit, the first or the second charging/discharging current calculator unit, and determines the current detector unit is abnormal when a difference between the current values is greater than a predetermined difference and that the current detector unit is normal when the difference is a predetermined value or smaller, wherein the estimated charging/discharging current of the battery is calculated based on the internal resistance of the battery, the voltage of the battery, the open voltage of the battery, and a polarization voltage, and wherein the SOC is estimated based on the estimated charging/discharging current value when the current abnormality detector unit determines that the current detector unit is abnormal and the SOC is estimated using the measured charging/discharging current value when the current detection abnormality detector unit determines that the current detector unit is normal.

The prior art of record does not disclose the above limitations, nor would it be obvious to modify the art in such a manner.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
